

This course focuses on introducing and developing the basic acting techniques of characterization, role analysis, stage movement, and voice and body control. This class will provide students with the opportunity to perform in front of others with poise, confidence, and panache. In addition, students will learn a variety of physical and vocal warm ups to assist in everything from auditions to live performances. This course is designed to strengthen the students' abilities, culminating in an improvement of acting methods that will help prepare students for any theatrical pursuit. During each semester, ALL students are expected to audition and be available for casting in any role or understudy position for the semester play.
