

Instructor: Mr. Faulkenberry This course serves as a survey of drama and theatre. During this full-year course, students will study the basics of theatre and acting, including: theatre history, pantomime, storytelling, basic principles of acting, stage movement and character creation, improvisation, stage and rehearsal terms, theatre etiquette, and the audition process. Students will perform theatrical productions.